

Introducing Symphony: The Future of Cyber Security Training Automation

Coming soon; Symphony, an innovative enhancement to our eLearning platform.

MetaCompliance, the award-winning cyber security awareness specialist, is proud to announce Symphony, an innovative enhancement to our eLearning platform. With our latest development, we are infusing the power of automation into personalised cyber security awareness programs, enriching the human aspect of cyber security.

Automation and personalisation to deliver results.

Our eLearning platform has provided the flexibility to create tailored courses for your employees. Selecting from over 40 languages, department, and role-specific content, and customising it with company-specific intros and outros is just the beginning. Symphony elevates this further by enabling the automation of your awareness programs, uniquely calibrated to your organisation's requirements.

Create a Symphony in your Company

1. Enter your risk profile and preferred timelines.
2. Employees complete assessment.
3. Results are analysed.
4. Automated personalised programmes scheduled.
5. Review & Reward.

An adaptive and responsive approach to training.

Symphony utilises the results of an employee assessment to recommend and administer bespoke awareness programs. Coupled with your risk priorities, Symphony adapts to your organisation's cyber security landscape, fostering a truly personalised, automated learning journey. This groundbreaking feature provides a flexible training solution while also revealing valuable insights about your workforce, enabling targeted improvement where needed and recognition for star performers.

Creating employees that care about cyber security.

But what sets MetaCompliance apart is our focus on engaging the hearts and minds of employees. We understand that cyber security training doesn't have to be dull. With offerings like our Netflix-style 'Cyber Police' series, the 'Cyber in 60 seconds' micro-training videos, and the humorous yet highly informative 'Viewer Discretion Advised' series, we take a leaf out of the aviation industry's book on safety videos, combining critical information with engaging and entertaining content. This approach helps create an environment where employees care about cyber security, making them active participants in your organisation's safety.

Choosing a cyber security training partner should be about finding the best fit for your organisation. With the introduction of Symphony, we continue to innovate our suite of solutions to offer various learning pathways. Whether you prefer manual control or automated convenience, MetaCompliance remains committed to being your partner of choice in cyber security awareness.
